

I delivered signed permissions/releases to Marketing on 05/07/07 for each of these student winners. Jo Ann Murray

Although it is important to make money, it is also important to know how to protect this money.

-Brian Higgins, junior, Tulsa Union High School

---

This event with my stocks showed me how intertwined our economy is with other nations' economies...

Not only have I had hands-on experience in buying and selling stocks, I have learned how important it is to be informed of the events of the rest of the world and how they can affect me.

Overall, Invest Ed has been the only program I have ever been involved in to teach me so much in so little amount of time. The information I have gained will continue to affect every economic decision I am presented with and will stay with me for the rest of my life.

-Jessica Walker, senior, Eisenhower High School

---

I also found it fascinating to witness how actual events in our global economy affect the stock market.

-Sara Roberts, junior, Weatherford High School

---

This project had changed the way I will live my life.

Information is the best tool when it comes to investing wisely and avoiding fraud.

My future investing goal is to be wise. I hope to make smart decisions that will help me in the long run. I understand that a substantial gain will not be overnight. Through the Invest Ed organization, I have learned important life lessons which shall help me in [the] future, making me a wiser, more successful future investor.

-Kelsey Heidlage, sophomore, Claremore High School

---

Aside from protecting myself from investment fraud, I also learned several other important pieces of information regarding the stock market. Specifically, I discovered that information is by far the most important tool for success in the stock market. I gradually began to understand that practically everything from popular culture to geopolitics can affect a stock's standing. Therefore, I realized it is important to have an overall picture of the world in general and not solely the market.

Gavin Groff, senior, Putnam City North High School

---